GREEN WOULD MAKE PUBLIC UNION DATA

AFL President Clashes With Rep. Hoffman, But Agrees to Plan

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—AFL President William Green told the house labor committee today he is willing to accept as a new labor law a requirement that unions make public reports of their finances.

In a shouting, red-faced exchange with Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.), the AFL chief named two or three other labor law proposals toward which he said he had the same attitude.

Hoffman had protested today Green came before the committee simply opposing any changes in existing laws, having no suggestions for improvement.

Finally, Green shouted: "Now wait! I'm willing that the Wagner act be changed so that the employer can be engaged in free speech."

"On financial reports of unions were willing."

No Objections
"It is a matter of union registration, licensed on a voluntary basis, we have no objections."

Hoffman exclaimed, "now we are getting somewhere." Previously Hoffman had said several times he had no suggestions for changes in labor laws, because "I'm not trying to limit or enslave labor."

Green also had contended the "real purpose" behind most of the laws proposed in congress "is to destroy unions and wreck collective bargaining."

Hoffman asked Green about a $50 initiation fee that the congressmen said the AFL carpenters union charged workers on construction of

Mercury Climbs To High Mark of 29

Rising temperatures made possible an almost complete resumption of normal natural gas service to industrial and commercial consumers today.

Snow continued to fall in Salem last night and today as the mercury climbed to a high of 29 degrees. The minimum was only 23.

Workers laid off at the Mullins plant were back at their jobs today after the gas ban had been lifted.

Although sub-freezing temperatures were reported, general ease was of such an extent that threats of continued acute fuel shortages diminished.

Salem's Schools Have Come A Long Way Since Time When Miss Nora Hise Was A Pupil

By PEARL WALKER
Salem was never more school-minded than at present.

With the $750,000 grade school building in the offing, students and patrons are looking forward to the completion of the proposed improvements.

This forward look has brought to mind a retrospection.

Miss Nora Hise of E. State st., only surviving member of the Salem High school class of 1881, gives some interesting incidents of school life in the eighties.

When Miss Hise, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hise, were among the city's pioneers, started to school in 1838, Salem had only two school buildings — one is the building now occupied by the Central Clinic, which housed the first, second, third and fourth grades, and the other the first High school building on E. Fourth st., where the upper grades and high school course were taught.

The property at N. Broadway and E. Second st. was acquired by the board of education in 1830, and the school was probably erected shortly thereafter. Abandoned as a school in 1880, it was purchased by the Brooks estate and made into apartments. The first Central Clinic company purchased it in 1920 and opened the Clinic in 1921.

Fourth St. Site 87 Years Old
The building on E. Fourth st., which was commenced in 1860, was replaced on the same site with the second High school building, dedicated in 1897. This building is now occupied by the Junior High and the Fourth Street grade school.

The first grade pupils of Miss Hise's time sat on long benches divided by "arms" on either side. There were no desks. However, on the "right side" there was a box for pencils, etc.

Miss Jennie Vogelsong was Miss Hise's first teacher. Among her other grade teachers were Sibyl Street, whom she describes as a tall Quaker who wore a hoop skirt; Arta Snyder Dodge, Gyp Walker Peeples and Maggie Umstead.

In her childhood there were no daily papers and no telephones. In case of a death the family would have small cards printed on which were the name of the decedent and the time of the funeral. These cards were tucked on trees in the downtown district. Thus the news was spread, Miss Hise said.

One of Four Graduates
When she entered High school there were 21 in the class, and when she graduated there were only four.

The general sentiment was against education for girls, Miss Hise explained. It was thought that a girl's place was in the home, learning to cook and keep house in preparation for her marriage. Boys, too, left school and started to work at an earlier age.

The other members of her class were Mrs. Clara Street Thompson, Mrs. Bessie Rush Sharp, mother of Judge Joel H. Sharp, and Mary Cate McCleery. Miss Hise was Salutatorian of her class.

In the first High school building there was one room on the third floor for high school students. It was heated by two large stoves and

Two Million Order Placed With Bliss For Mill Machinery

Orders for rolling mill equipment exceeding $2,000,000 were received during January by E. W. Bliss Co. in Salem, according to an announcement by Marshall M. Smith, company president.

This equipment is used to process steel, brass, aluminum and other metals into sheets and strips suitable for fabrication.

Besides its Salem factory, the Bliss Co. has a plant at Toledo which has been undergoing extensive re-equipping in order to attain the maximum manufacture of medium size and large power presses, Smith said.

Work in this direction was started eighteen months ago, and much progress has been made. Changes include installation of new foundry equipment designed to increase production of special iron castings.

Equipment to produce Meehanite, made with processes licensed by the Meehanite Corp., was installed at Bliss' plant in Hastings, Mich., several years ago, and has resulted in a greatly improved quality of castings.

During the past eighteen months, new machine tools, valued at over $300,000 were installed at the Toledo plant to replace obsolete equipment.

Robert Hinde, works manager, supervises all Bliss operations at Toledo.

State Senators Study Plans After March On Statehouse

COLUMBUS, Feb. 26.—State senators, worked over by a jeering band of marching veterans, turned today to the task of drafting a bonus plan on which voters will have the final say at an election.

"There's no delay on the veterans' bonus question," declared Sen. D. A. Liggett (R-Logan), chairman of the senate military affairs committee, as hearings were resumed by his five-member sub-committee.

March On Statehouse
Some 400 sign-carrying veterans, more than half of them from Cleveland, marched on the statehouse yesterday afternoon demanding immediate bonus payments, low rent housing, a fair employment practices commission and other benefits.

The Ohio veterans conference, in session in Columbus, sponsored the bonus march. Members said it grew out of work done by the Collinwood veterans committee, composed of delegates from 36 union shops in the Cleveland industrial area.

The marchers bore signs saying "Ohio Vets Want Cash, Not Promises;" "Vets Can't Eat Medals;" "We Want a Low Rent Housing Project;" "We Fought For Democracy, Not To Destroy Our Unions."

A number of the signs carried the numbers of the CIO locals of which the veterans are members.

Part of them surrounded Cuyahoga county senators following the afternoon session and booted lustily when they were told that the senate committee hearings would delay a meeting with a veterans' delegation.

Sens. Jack A. Persky, a sub-committee member, and Allen N. Corlett, both Cleveland Republicans, then cancelled their appointments and met with some 200 marchers in the senate assembly room. A number of state representatives from Cleveland also attended the noisy meeting.

Others See Governor
At the same time other marchers conferred with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert while still others argued in separate knots in the senate chamber with Sen. Kyle P. Brooks (R-Hamilton), a sub-committee member; Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (R-Cuyahoga) and Sen. William Tyrrel (R-Montgomery).

Herbert assured the veterans FEPC legislation would be considered, that bonus proposals were being studied but that he was "not advocating any particular method of financing a bonus."

John Brennan and Joe Chaka, Cleveland leaders of the marchers, said taxes on large incomes and corporate profits should finance bonuses instead of increased realty or sales taxes as generally proposed.

Corlett told listeners, despite heckling, that a bonus could be paid only if voters at an election approved a change in the Ohio Constitution which now limits the state debt to $750,000.

He explained that bonus payments would run between $300,000 to $600,000,000 and that the state surplus could not be used because appropriations for special groups were banned.

UNIFICATION PLANS SENT BY PRESIDENT

Legislation Would Set Up National Defense Establishment

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—President Truman sent to congress today the draft of a proposed bill calling for the unification of the armed forces.

The legislation would set up a national defense establishment, under a civilian secretary of national defense who would have cabinet rank.

The legislation would bring under the defense establishment equally-important departments of the Army, the Navy and the Air force.

Each of the three branches of the armed services would have a secretary to direct its activities as an individual unit. The three secretaries—for Army, Navy and Air force—in turn would operate under direction of the secretary of national defense.

While all four secretaries would be subject to confirmation by the senate, the white house said only the secretary of national defense would have cabinet rank.

Unification Goal
The president, in a letter submitting the proposed legislation, informed Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) presiding officer of the senate, and Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) of the house:

"It is my belief that this suggested legislation accomplishes the desired unification of the services and I heartily recommend its enactment by the congress."

The draft, entitled "national security act of 1947," was completed by Clark M. Clifford, the president's special counsel, after lengthy consultations with the secretaries of War and Navy and the joint chiefs of staff, all of whom, Mr. Truman said, approved the bill.

Under the measure, the United States air force would be established under the Department of the Air Force to which would be transferred the Army Air Forces, the Air Corps of the United States Army, and General Headquarters Air Force (Air Force Command).

The president would appoint, subject to senate confirmation, a chief of staff of the air force for a term of four years. The functions of the commanding general of the Air Force Combat command, the chief of the Air Corps, and the commanding general of the Army Air Forces would be transferred to this chief of staff.

Joint Command
The legislation sets up within the national defense establishment the joint chiefs of staff, to be made up of the chief of staff of the United States Army, the chief of naval operations, the chief of staff of the United States Air Force, and the chief of staff of the Air Corps, and the commanding general of the Army Air Forces.

While the secretaries of the army, the navy and the department of the air force would function under the overall direction of the secretary of national defense, the legislation provides that any of the three may appeal directly to the President, after informing the national defense secretary of any matter he wishes to take up with the White House.

One Kind of Reason

One of the reasons for blasting Ohio's system of state liquor control because some of its employees appear to have forgotten they were working for the public was stated concisely by Dr. B. F. Lamb, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, before his organization. "It is time for the church to wake up and organize an effective campaign to put the liquor business back in the hands of the disreputable," he said, "so that youth will understand that to play with liquor or any of its associates is a dangerous business."

In other words, take all semblance of respectability out of the liquor business, because it then will be at the mercy of its "disreputable" elements and will become what it was in the saloon era and, later, in the bootleg era—"a dangerous business." However, to make the liquor business dangerous would not be a solution of the problem of controlling it. On the contrary, it merely would aggravate the problem.

Many want the problem aggravated, because they honestly want it to get worse. They reason that if it gets bad enough, Ohio and perhaps the nation can return to prohibition. Thus, they are not interested in making state liquor control work. They are interested only in helping the liquor business give itself the kind of black eye its least scrupulous members always have been eager to give it.

Hogs $30; Prophets Zero

An all-time pork-price record of $30 a hundred has been reached, accompanied by an all-time low in prophecy. Everybody concerned seems to have guessed wrong.

It is obvious that when hogs on the hoof sell so high that pork on the table must bring in the neighborhood of $1 a pound there is a shortage of supply relative to demand. This is elementary, but at the same time so extremely complicated no one understands it.

President Truman said last summer he was baffled because there were so many hogs on farms and so few in the markets. Patient critics pointed out to him and to the backers of the OPA, who at that time were doing his thinking for him, that there were alarmingly few hogs on farms and that there'd be no pork on the table at all unless OPA lifted price ceilings.

These same critics, however, seemed to take the position that if price ceilings were lifted, thereby bringing hogs to market, they would come in such quantities that the price of pork would go down, after a flurry toward the blue sky. In short, they seemed to believe there would be enough hog meat forthcoming to keep down the price, while pointing out at the same time that there was an over-all shortage in the hog census.

The United States government, meanwhile, which is supposed to look out for such economic planning as private enterprise doesn't accomplish in its trial-and-error-profit-and-loss manner, increased pork exports. This could have been done only on the supposition there would be plenty of pork. At the same time, it did nothing to increase the hog census.

Consumers thus were led to believe that hog meat would be forthcoming at progressively lower prices, which could have been done only by an unflinching supply of hogs. The meat was forthcoming, but not at progressively lower prices. Hogs at $30 are an ominous sign, ominous enough to make the Labor Department mutter about the cost of living continuing to increase until June—an invitation to revive the race between prices and wage rates.

It makes both the economic planning that government claims to be able to do and the planning that private enterprise claims doesn't have to be done look bad. The shortages of hogs and railroad cars make something to remember February 1947 for—and not pleasantly. Sometimes it looks as if that vaunted American way consisted of doing everything the hard way.

No Strawberries

The Bureau of Labor Statistics pops up in the news with a report that wholesale prices hit a postwar high the middle of February. Simultaneously, Department of Agriculture economists are making ominous statements about the possibility that food prices may go above their December peak before they drop, perhaps in late spring or early summer.

This will be seized upon in some places as evidence that industrial wage rates must be jacked up still higher and will be a matter of extreme importance in preparations now afoot to shut down the rubber industry and other basic industries with strikes to force higher wages. Meanwhile, the majority of American workers will continue to do what they have done for generations.

They will temper the wind to the shorn lamb and wait for the inordinately high prices of the scarcest commodities to come down. They will not buy pork at upwards of a dollar a pound. They will go up and down the list of commodities which are included in the index prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and spend their money where it will do the most good. They will go easy on citrus fruits because of the Florida freeze.

They will buy potatoes, which the government has been supporting with a public subsidy so the price wouldn't fall to the giveaway level at which the government is disposing of its own surplus stocks. They will make their money reach, and they will resist every attempt to boost wage rates and costs still higher, making it harder than ever for consumers to make ends meet. There is considerably more to it than statistics; there is common sense, which has been so far the missing factor in postwar wage adjustments.

Some food heats the blood, a doctor observes. And sometimes the price of it makes the blood boil.

For Thursday, February 27

THE prospects are excellent for the accomplishment of high-gauge activities, of a constructive and creative objective, yet a proclivity to overdo, to use inflationary tactics or introduce some vague notions or irrational ideas may prove defeating and subject the whole plan and project to peril and annihilation. This will permit others to step in and reap the profits. A space of rest and relaxation with social, domestic or romantic diversion, would prove beneficial to energies and recharge and revamp techniques.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves deep in a year of activities and purposes toward which they may be disposed with "hammer and tongs"—temporarily and violently—to their lasting detriment. Excess and over optimism may tax the energies to such degree that the mentality may not equal the pace, giving the outlook an inflationary and false value. A period of relaxation, entertainment, social, domestic diversions, while serious matters "simmer," is urged. Romantic pleasures have auspicious stimulus.

A Weapon To Fight Influenza

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D. for periods of six months to a year.

FOR the first time in history, medical science now has a weapon against influenza. The discovery of a vaccine to aid in prevention of this disorder is one of the great scientific advances which help to forestall the terrible cost of war. For the anti-flu vaccine is a war-born discovery.

The search for it was inspired by the need to protect large bodies of troops from the disease and proof of its value was confirmed by work on Army and Navy personnel.

As a result, doctors can now say with some certainty that the new vaccine will ward off influenza influenza.

725 Ohio Welfare
Workers Sought

COLUMBUS, Feb. 26—The Ohio Welfare department, short 725 of the number of workers it considers it needs, hopes to lever nearly $3,000,000 extra into its 1947-48 budget to (A) pay its present hands more money, (B) hire some, or (C) both.

Director Charles L. Sherwood disclosed today that the department's payroll for its institutions alone now was running around $10,000,000 a year, on the basis of $825,000 paid in January. Last year's total was $8,173,000 and much of that increase was traced to addition of such institutions as hospitals at Cambridge, Tiffin, Youngstown, Cleveland, and Summit county.

Sherwood said that 735 employees had been added for the Cambridge hospital, formerly the Army's Fletcher General hospital; 29 for Tiffin, which was purchased from the junior order of United American Mechanics; 55 for the Summit County hospital, 124 for Hoover Pavilion at Cleveland, and 66 at Youngstown.

The budget for the new biennium, as presented to Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher, asks $1,300,000 additional for salaries this year and $1,500,000 for 1948.

RABBITS AUGMENT
BERLIN FOOD SUPPLY

BERLIN—The rabbit has become the most popular domestic animal in calorie-conscious Berlin.

The lowly "kaninchen" serves a double purpose — he provides not only food but fur for coats and hats. And he's easy to feed on such things as potato peelings, vegetable waste and hay.

That's why today thousands of amateur breeders are keeping rabbits on balconies and in cellars, as well as in backyard warrens. In addition, there are 350 commercial rabbit breeders associations.

Tired, "All-In"—
Listless Feeling
Brought To HaltAs Vibrant Energy is Released
To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-bloods.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—the stomach each will have its cause to get busy with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Science Now Looks Toward 'Death Ray' Gun

As if the atomic bomb isn't enough to worry about, scientists now foresee the possibility of a cosmic ray gun that will make the A-bomb a strictly second-rate weapon. Artist's conception, above, follows a description of the cosmic ray gun in Mechanix Illustrated. Based on the linear accelerator now being used in atomic research, the gun would be directed by radar from a subterranean remote control room. It would emit a disintegrating beam of cosmic ray particles which would produce mesons. These would split the atoms of targets in their path. Such a gun would be the world's first—and perhaps last—practical death ray. But don't worry too much. Scientists are not completely hep to the meson yet.

W. VIRGINIA SHOPS CLOSED BY COLD

WHEELING, W. V., Feb. 26—More than 10,000 steel and glass workers in northern West Virginia were idled today by shutdowns of their plants through curtailment of gas by utilities because of cold weather.

Wheeling Steel Corp. said all but two of its plants were virtually idle because of the gas shortage.

At Clarksburg, units of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, Hazel Atlas Glass and Rolland Glass closed down a number of departments.

The gas curtailments were put into effect by the Hope Natural Gas company and the Manufacturers Light and Heat company to conserve supplies for home consumers. The latter's limitations also applied to theaters, hotels and restaurants.

Cotton is used to make 90 per cent of the world's clothing.

Reforestation In Ohio Slowed by Seed Shortage

COLUMBUS, Feb. 26—Lack of funds to grow seedlings has slowed reforestation in Ohio—not only of strip-mined areas, but of other waste lands, Robert R. Paton, forester in charge of state nurseries, told the Columbus Chapter of Friends of the Land last night.

Paton said 99 per cent of the state's waste land would grow a cover of trees, but that artificial measures were necessary to speed the process.

Larry Cook of Cleveland, executive secretary of the Ohio reclamation association, declared that stripping operations make better forest area of unglaciated land with thin top soil. He reported more than 4,000,000 trees have been planted in stripped area, and 21 lakes have been formed.

A third speaker in the panel discussion, Dr. A. C. Chapman, chief of the Division of Forest Management of the Central States Forest experiment station, said 10 years of experimentation had shown black locust and pine were most successful in first plantings of spoil banks.

Blue sheep are found in the mountains of Szechwan province, China.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

In summing up her married life the wife of a famous and important American recently described it as a "partnership"—in which she assumed that her job was to keep their home a serene and happy refuge for him, and to keep from him all the problems concerned with the running of a house.

There is nothing unusual in her story. It is the picture marriage that the wives of successful men almost always paint.

And yet the popular modern idea of a marriage partnership is one in which the wife expects the husband to come home from his work to share her duties and problems.

Women have come to think that the man who doesn't want to listen to how hard the little woman has worked all day, help her figure out what to do about this annoyance or that, and lend a hand with the housework, is a selfish sort who doesn't appreciate his wife.

The husband who does all those things may be a comfort around the house. But the woman who wants her man to get ahead should take a tip from the wives of successful men and look on the meaning of marriage "partnership" in a different light.

DIVIDE RESPONSIBILITY

A man and woman are just as much partners if the woman assumes as her job all responsibility for running the house and taking care of the problems that come up in connection with that job.

Then home is a refuge to her husband. It's a place where he can rest and relax and then go back to his job each day ready to meet its challenges.

It is really a question of whether a woman wants her husband to succeed in his life's work—or whether she wants him to be a sort of mother's helper. She really shouldn't expect both.

Priest Regains Vision After Cornea Operation

RENO, Nev., Feb. 26.—His full vision restored, Father Edmund Boyle today hailed as "a demonstration of the progress of science" the operation involving the use of vitreous matter taken from the eye of an executed murderer.

The 30-year-old priest, formerly of Pawtucket, R. I., had been blind in the right eye since childhood. He was blinded an eye by Paul Maynard Skaug of Oshkosh, Wis., and the operation was performed Jan. 11, the day after Skaug died in the gas chamber.

Father Doyle's physician, who preferred that his name be withheld, said the priest had regained perfect vision.

Feted On Birthday

The birthday anniversary of Philip Hartman of Washingtonville was celebrated Saturday evening at the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Millsagle, W. State st., when 18 relatives gathered for a dinner. A large cake centered the table. Mr. Hartman received many gifts.

Death reached for this Man... and Missed

Today, this man walks our streets alive, well and happy. Recently, Death reached for him—almost had him. But the miracles of Science proved stronger than the demons of Disease. And this man—a friend of yours, perhaps—became one of the many thousands who owe their lives to modern medical science.

We shall long remember this as the decade that gave us wonder-working drugs—the sulfa derivatives, penicillin, streptomycin; new revolutionary techniques in surgery; improved methods of treating wounds and burns.

And all these things are but the beginning of a new and brighter era. New and greater wonders are yet to come. For Science is not a static thing. It is ever moving, ever searching, ever resolved to lighten the burdens of man, even as it lengthens his days here on the earth.

Columbiana Club May Sponsor Girl Scout Organization

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 26.—Need of more Girl Scout troops in Columbiana for different ages was emphasized at a meeting of the Mothers club at the home of Mrs. Lee Bookwalter Monday evening.

Mrs. Fred Eving of the Girl Scout council in Salem was the guest speaker. She dwelt upon the origin and history of girl scouting and its beneficial effects.

In a discussion following Mrs. Eving's talk, it was brought out that leaders have been lacking in Columbiana. Mrs. Richie Hepburn, leader of the only troop in town, which is sponsored by the Legion, has found it necessary to refuse many applications of girls for membership on account of diversity of ages and the need of help.

The Mothers club may consider sponsoring of a troop, and churches and organizations may be asked to back one or two more. Anyone wishing to assist in leadership is asked to contact Mrs. Hepburn.

The instruction facilities of the Salem scout council are at the service of any who may be interested.

The Mothers club is preparing for the book review under its auspices to be given in city hall Monday evening, March 10, by Mrs. Maurice Michael. It will be open to the public.

Music Makers To Meet
The Music Makers' Club will meet at the Presbyterian church at 7 tonight.

Substitute Speaker Heard
Wilbur Shaw, president of the Indianapolis Speedway association, who was to have been the speaker at the Washington's birthday banquet of Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion, was unable to be present. Making the trip by plane from Indianapolis, he was forced down in the western part of the state by weather conditions.

As a substitute, the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. sent from Akron the head of its public relations department, George Bowie, who made the address.

Joining in the event with the Legion post were the Rotary, Kiwanis and Booster clubs. About 125 were present at the dinner served by the Legion auxiliary. Richard Lehman, commander of Firestone post, presided, and George Seidler introduced the speaker.

Mr. Bowie gave a semi-humorous talk on "Ladies and Gentlemen." His main idea was that in spite of their differences, they get along well together, and that the world will have to learn to do the same.

Instrumental music was provided by a trumpet trio of Fairfield High school sophomores, Bill Rymer, Bob Nichols and Dick Barth, accompanied at the piano by Robert Smith, the school music supervisor.

Mrs. Clarence Barnes had charge of the devotionals. Mrs. T. P. Laughner had charge of the entertainment.

Roll call was answered by "Valentine Verses." Miss Ruby Anglemeyer, local chairman of the Red Cross, told of her work and experiences.

The second of the Mid-Week Lenten services will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church Thursday evening at 7:30. Rev. T. P. Laughner will speak on "I Believe in God."

Two Youths Get 25-Year Terms In Ohio Kidnaping

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 26.—Henry Black, Jr., 16, and Albert Webster, 14, were under 25-year sentences each today following their conviction in federal court of kidnaping Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sherrick of Conroy, O., last Oct. 24.

Judge Luther M. Swygert imposed the sentences yesterday. The Nashville, Tenn., youths were convicted of entering the Sherrick's car near Van Wert, O., and of forcing the couple to drive them to New Haven, Ind. Mrs. Sherrick said both boys raped her before she made an escape at New Haven.

The sentences carried 20-year on the kidnap charges and five years on one count of an indictment charging motor theft.

Mother of Six Charged With Stolen Property

COLUMBUS, Feb. 26.—A 35-year-old mother of six children was under indictment today on a charge of receiving property stolen by her 14-year-old son. The paroled convict with whom she was arrested in Newark Feb. 4 faced a return to Ohio penitentiary.

A Franklin county grand jury yesterday indicted Mrs. Virgie May Minor, whose son, Glen, 14, is serving an indeterminate sentence in the boys' industrial school in connection with a series of burglaries on the northside of Columbus.

Gale E. Henthorne, 39, of Newark, who was arrested there with Mrs. Minor, was paroled last fall from Ohio penitentiary after serving 10 years of a life sentence for the rape of a five-year-old Licking county girl in 1936. The jury no-billed a stolen property charge against Henthorne so he could be recommitted to the penitentiary as a parole violator. Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett said.

Again the Morris car "stuck on ice and this time Dr. Stevens assumed the pushing task. The doctor slipped and had to seek a fellow physician to tend to his head wound.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Thieves in Louisville are coming to regard the poor box near the door of St. John's Catholic church as jailhouse bait.

It's all because of a secret-burglar alarm hooked to the box by the Rev. Robert A. Willett. The device has just trapped its 12th victim.

Father Willett got tired of having the box rifled. So he rigged up a trick contraption. Now every time somebody tries to take out instead of put in, a bell sounds an alarm in the rectory.

STANTON, Tenn.—Gillian F. Jones, undertaker, reports he has buried people in two nearby cemeteries with unusual names.

One of the burial plots is "Do Me Good; the other, "Scratch Under."

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Patrolman R. C. Williams hurriedly placed a call for reinforcements after he thought he heard a blow torch being used in the dead of night at the Oklahoma National bank. With guns drawn and silently entering the bank, the officers confronted a steam boiler that had become overheated. Excessive pressure escaping sounded like a blow torch.

Thank God For Muscle-Rub!

Writes Mr. Robert Jordan, Colon, Mich.
Advices every sufferer from Rheumatic-Arthritic-Sciatic-Neuritic Pains to try Muscle-Rub.

Here's the true story of a man who took treatments, used all kinds of remedies for his sciatic, neuritic pains without being helped in the slightest degree. Mr. Robert Jordan of Colon, Mich., suffered agony from pains in his hip-knee-calf of legs. The pain at times was so bad that he couldn't sit down. He tried several different treatments, many different medicines, all of which did him no good. He couldn't work. Life was misery for him.

Then one day he saw an advertisement of Muscle-Rub—the doctor's prescription—and in desperation bought a bottle. He used it as directed and in 3 days the pains were relieved and Mr. Jordan was back on the job.

No wonder he advises every rheumatic sufferer to try Muscle-Rub for fast pain relief. Get a bottle today at or any live drugist.

Remember, Muscle-Rub is sold on this money back guarantee. If only half a bottle doesn't bring relief your drugist is authorized to return your money.—Adv.

Telephones In World Total $5,500,000

NEW YORK.—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reports the world now has 51,500,000 telephones in use.

Stockholm ranks next to San Francisco as the city having the most telephones per individual resident in the world, although New York City, with 2,218,000 instruments, has the greatest number of telephones.

No one city in the United States contains as much as eight per cent of the total number of the nation's 27,687,000 telephones. However, Brussels, Copenhagen and Paris each contain about one-third of their country's telephones.

Britain, with 3,925,000 telephones, has more than three times as many as Soviet Russia's 1,272,500.

More than 115,000,000 miles of telephone wire are in use in the United States, of which nearly 60 per cent is in underground cable.

TOURNAMENT DEPARTMENT

Results At South
Chaney 55 Campbell 19
Louisville 41 Ursuline 32
South 53 East Palestine 39
Struthers 50 Girard 34

ACTIVITY AT SOUTH FIELD HOUSE Tuesday night was far superior—from a fan's standpoint at least—to the inauspicious Monday openers, with Louisville stealing the show with a mild upset of Youngstown Ursuline in the best ball game in Class A so far.

The Louisville lads, tutored by Mount Union's Wayne Ashbaugh, chalked up a victory simply on the basis of good foul shooting, caging 17 of 22 attempts from the free throw line. Ursuline made good on but nine of 17 tries. Both teams meshed 12 baskets and the battle was tight all the way until the final three and a half minutes of play, when the Raiders gradually pulled away.

The lead changed hands or the score was tied 16 times until midway in the fourth Louisville hit 22 percent or 12 of 53 shots. Ursuline, coached by Cy James, made 12 shots in 67 for a poor 17 per cent.

IN THE OTHER TOP FRAY of the night, still from a fan's viewpoint, George McKinstry's East Palestine Bulldogs threw a definite scare into Youngstown South and made the going tough for the favorites all the way, only to lose by the unindictable score of 53-39.

The Bulldogs met South's offensive equally in the first two frames, netting 12 points each quarter, as South did. But in the third and fourth the Columbiana county entry slipped and South pulled to the front, despite a beautiful defensive show by McKinstry's lads. South hit only 23 of 98 shots for a poor 23 per cent while the Bulldogs meshed 16 of 47 for the tournament second best percentage of 34.

Palestine scoring was evenly divided.

IN THE OTHER TWO CONTESTS Chaney had an exceptional "hot" evening, swamping an ordinarily even foe, Campbell Memorial, by a 55-19 count. John Hlavac led the way with the tourney's top, 18 points. Memorial was never in the game.

Struthers was also exceptionally warm, lacing a Girard team that had once beaten it soundly, by a 50-32 margin. The Big Red jumped into an early lead with uncanny accuracy and never allowed Girard to show its talents on offense.

The Big Red hit 24 per cent, but the total percentage isn't indicative of the accuracy shown in the first two frames. Struthers hit 22 of 89 shots while Girard made only 11 of 53 attempts for a 20 per cent mark.

THE VICTORIES MOVE THE winners into second round play next week. Tuesday, when Lisbon meets Timken at 6, Canton Township vies against Chaney at 7, Canton McKinley will begin against Louisville at 8 and South will compare wares with Struthers. All come as tighter frays than the rather one-sided openers. Class B games take over until Saturday night.

Attendance at South this year—for the first two nights—is far below last year's first two days. Only 1,386 watched the play Monday and 1,334 (paid admissions) saw last night's games as compared to 4,024 paid on opening night 1946 and 1,400 on the second night. The comparison is just half of 1946's record mark.

Things will pick up, however, Saturday, when Lehman meets Central at 7, Canton Lincoln takes on Minerva at 8 and Youngstown East tastes Hubbard at 9.

Tournament Pace Quick Throughout State

SEASON MARKS CAST ASIDE AS BATTLE BEGINS

Upsets Come Infrequently So Far In State-Wide Cage Preliminaries

(By Associated Press)

Past performances mean nothing when the Ohio high schools start out after the state championship via the long and involved tournament routes—for instance take New Holland, winners of 23 straight games.

This Class B school from Pickaway county had been running along in high gear until Tuesday night at Westerville when Grove City of Franklin county ran the Central district and came out with a convincing 44 to 26 victory.

Grove City has won 18 and lost two—both defeats at the hands of Worthington, last year's state runners-up. The New Holland boys never had a chance, their high scorer Jim McGown, collecting only three points as Chuck Smiley of Grove City threw in 18.

Frazesburg, the only other of the seven undefeated teams to see action Tuesday hung up victory No. 25 by swamping Coshocton Sacred Heart 75 to 19. Frazesburg had 24 points before the Coshocton team could score in the Class B sectional at Zanesville.

Dresden, Frazesburg's perennial neighboring rival, manhandled Pleasant City, Guernsey county champion, 55 to 46. Harrietsville, Noble county champion, lost to Waterville 47 to 14; and Union county's champion Broadway fell before Grovesport 47 to 31. Gambier, winner of the Knox county title, lost to Claridon 49 to 32.

Bettleville of Belmont county and West Union of Adams county, undefeated Class B teams, have yet to play in sectionals.

The state's two undefeated Class A teams, Bryan and Upper Arlington, will not see action until Friday. Bryan will be paired with Montpelier at Defiance and Upper Arlington will play in the Central district against Delaware, a team it has defeated twice by 20 points.

Steuensville, always a strong contender for Class A honors, is out of the running following Tuesday's 54 to 44 sectional setback from Toronto.

First round Class A games elsewhere went according to form. Columbus Central, beaten out for the city league title last week, wreaked its sorrow upon an unsuspecting Marion Harding team 70 to 29.

Dayton Stivers took a three-point win from Dayton Fairview and Dayton Chamblaine spilled Osborne Bath 30 to 26. Youngstown Chaney hit Campbell Memorial 55 to 19 and Youngstown South eliminated East Palestine 53 to 39.

Play at both A and B continues at a rapid pace every night this week as the original field of 1200 or so teams gets lopped off to somewhere around 120.

Back On Feet, Babe Ruth Tells Home Run Secret

Convalescent Babe Ruth, revealing a trade secret heretofore told only to the late Lou Gehrig, shows Hank Greenberg, present day heavy hitter, the grip by which he became baseball's all-time home run king. Recovering from critical illness at his New York apartment, the Babe says "secret" lies in extending little finger of right hand down below main surface of the handle and butt, thus throwing the bat's entire weight into ball.

QUAKERS MAY MEET CANTON M'KINLEY IN PRACTICE TRY

Coach Miller Is Planning Scrimmages As Part of Week's Practice

This business of sharpening up for tournament competition for a full week and a half while most of the other teams are engaging opponents is not an easy one on the nerves.

That's what the Salem Quakers, who don't enter tournament action until a week from today, are finding out this week.

Coach Bob Miller and his lads have been working out with the usual earnestness each afternoon at the high school gym and plan practices on larger floors before they begin their tournament action.

The Quakers ran through plays, had shooting and foul shooting practices Monday and Tuesday and expected to arrange a scrimmage or two before the week's end.

There is a good possibility, Coach Miller said today, that the Quakers and the Canton McKinley Bulldogs will scrimmage each other on the South field house floor this week.

Miller has contacted Coach Bup Reack of the Canton school and Reack is anxious to get a workout at South.

Reack's twice-beaten Bulldogs were the No. 2 seeded team in the Class A Salem being first.

Miller also has a scrimmage in mind with the Massillon Tigers, if arrangements can be completed before the initial tournament game. Both Massillon and Canton have drawn byes, McKinley at Youngstown and Massillon at the Akron Class A affair.

Salem's team spent Monday evening attending a showing of an Oklahoma A and M basketball film and attended the Class A tournament Tuesday night.

The Salem coach hasn't announced his choice of 10 men for the tourney, the amount allowed by regulations, but Bob Payer, Tony Martinelli, Jimmy Laughlin, Francis Lanney, Virgil Kelly, Pete Cain, Tom Miner, Mo Mercer, Carl Ciccozzi and probably Wilford "Biggie" Faulkner seem the likely choices from regular season performances.

that only by conducting the business on a large scale could appreciable profits be realized.

He further advised that more efficient farm layouts be constructed both to save labor and to enable owners to handle a greater capacity.

Specifically, he stressed the need of keeping the price of brown eggs up and for keeping down the mortality of chickens. He said the main problem of all poultrymen was that of keeping old hens from contacting chicks and thus spreading disease.

He advised those who had epidemics on their farms to "sell every chicken on the farm before buying any new chicks."

Brooder Heating

Vandervort explained the purpose and methods of radiant heat in brooding and showed slide films illustrating the process.

The principal of radiant heating in brooding is the same as that now being used in home heating, he said. The installation of hot water pipes in the concrete flooring keeps the temperature of the room constant throughout and creates no drafty heat currents. The method is far superior to any other now in use, he said since sickness is cut to a minimum.

The Columbiana county poultry committee, announced last night, is headed by W. A. Morris of Tectonia as chairman. Other members on the committee are as follows:

the army's Camp Blanding in Florida.

With William Hutchison, president of the carpenters union sitting at his elbow, Green said he couldn't recall the case. When pressed on it he explained, "My dear sir I—I— you are setting up a hypothetical case."

Hoffman said it was an actual case.

The exchange went on:

On Jurisdictional Strikes

Hoffman: "You read in the paper that Phil Murray (CIO president) said there's no justification for jurisdictional strikes. Do you agree?"

Green: "Not altogether."

Hoffman: "Don't you believe your unions should settle them?"

Green: "That's our policy."

Hoffman: "Farmers are unorganized. When they bring ham and eggs to town why don't you refuse to eat 'em?"

Green: "We are reasonable men."

Green opened his testimony by reading a prepared statement containing the various proposals for new labor laws overlook "the causes of the industrial unrest that has swept the country since V-J day."

The main cause, he insisted, is inflation.

Asked Teachers Not To Make Capital Visit

COLUMBUS, Feb. 26 — Ohio's teachers should refrain from marching upon the state capital to support their demands for increased salaries, the president of the Ohio

Education association asserted yesterday.

Dr. M. F. Vallance also urged teachers to give state legislators, debating how best to improve the teachers' situation, plain facts upon which to base their decisions.

"I would be unfortunate if by rash and unconsidered actions a minority of teachers would alienate the mass public support for better teaching salaries and schools," he said in reference to reports that teachers in southern Ohio communities had received mimeographed, anonymous circulars suggesting either a "five-day holiday" starting next Sunday, or an appearance at Columbus Monday noon.

"So long as current teaching contracts are in force, school teachers have a primary responsibility to themselves and to their communities to stay on the job," Dr. Vallance declared.

Second Plane Lost In Alaskan Region

ELMENDORF FIELD, Alaska, Feb. 26—The Second Alaskan Air command B-29 lost in less than a week on training missions was feared down today somewhere on or near the Alaska peninsula, possibly in the vicinity of the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.

Brig. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, commanding general, announced the last report from the missing ship placed it near Bruin pass, on the mainland area of the peninsula north of Kodiak island. The number of men aboard and their names were not disclosed.

Search for this Superfortress follows by only a day the rescue of 11 Army Air Forces fliers from northern Greenland, where they crash landed late Friday in a B-29 plane of the 46th Long Range Reconnaissance squadron.

They were based at Ladd field, Fairbanks, Alaska and were forced down when their big bomber, the "Kee Bird," was blown off its course during a storm and ran out of gas.

The latest missing B-29 took off from Elmendorf field, near Anchorage.

SALEM'S SCHOOLS

the janitor, Bennie Authorne, carried the coal in buckets from the basement.

No Extra Curricular Activities

There were no basketball or football games to lure the student from his home in the evening. A school play once a year was about the only entertainment the school provided.

The student had no choice of studies but the one curriculum offered by the board of education.

Miss Ida Clark taught music and drawing.

The sweet girl graduates of '31 took clothes backs, with them to the 17th annual commencement of Salem High school to hold their flowers. It was the custom to take bouquets of flowers to the exercises to give the graduates after their orations. Evidently these girls had many friends.

The program was given in Concert hall on the second floor of the old First National bank building. Red, white and blue were the class colors and the hall was resplendent with flags and flowers.

A braided gold ring with a horse-shoe pendant was presented each of the young women by the class of '78.

And Miss Hise has kept her ring through the years and also the ribbons attached to her diploma.

The board of education in '81 was comprised of Robert Hole, president; Edward P. Rukenbrod, secretary; William Eastman, treasurer; Henry Judd and Charles Harris.
